“An artist’s artist”

- Jim McFarlane, President
American Watercolor Society

Eric Wiegardt AWS-DF, NWS will enthusiastically share his award winning watercolor techniques. He will demonstrate the design concepts, techniques, and theory that have garnered him international recognition. Even though demonstrations most likely will be presented in his bold and loose signature style, tight painters as well will appreciate Eric's knowledge in achieving a "painterly" look. He will show how to construct a beautiful painting in one sitting with lectures that are easily understood and helpful. It is recommended that the student have minimal previous painting experience. There will be ample time for students to try the concepts presented in a safe environment. Daily demonstrations may include marinescapes, landscapes, still lifes, street scenes, and interiors.

“Watching ‘Eric in Action’ was an exhilarating experience for our workshop participants!”
